Have you heard the one about Universal Comedy?

We see comedy as serious for your business, because laughter pays.

Comedy and laughter in the workplace reduces stress and diffuses tension, saving your business time and money, improving staff morale and motivation.

As we progress through our careers, it has been proven that we lose at least 95% of our creative thinking.

‘On average adults laugh just 17 times per day. Children laugh 500 times per day’

Universal Comedy’s innovative comedy clinics can help you get this back by checking your staff into one of our unique Corporate Comedy Clinics.™

Our comedy workshops can be tailor made for you and will be hosted by professional comedic tutors (writers and performers) from the world of stand-up.

Our comedians will cover all the things you need to help improve in your working life, including:

- Public speaking
- Team building
- Communication skills
- Using humour to deal with conflict and stress
- Boosting creativity and confidence

Universal Comedy will meet with you beforehand to discover more about your organisation and staff and tailor your comedy clinic to focus on specific areas which need improvement.

Not only will your staff and company benefit, we will too!

Universal Comedy is a charity and social enterprise.

The corporate comedy clinic™ fee is ploughed back into providing our services to reach and support anyone facing ill health, mental health and employment challenges. We have an ever-expanding waiting list of disadvantaged people in our communities keen to use our services. So you really will be raising a smile. Some previous organisations include:

- North Glasgow Healthy Living Community - Managers of Health & Well Being Organisations
- Royston Stress Centre - Taster Workshop for Staff Training Day
- CEis Staff Workshop with Baillieston Housing Association
- North Lanarkshire Council - Choose Life Staff Workshop
- North Lanarkshire Council - Social Work Staff Workshops

Professional Events

We can provide comedy for any organisational event.

Sketches, routines, improvisations, stand-up and interactive comedy have already proven popular with NHS, Health, Social Care, Employability and commercial organisations.

We can work with you and devise comedy around your event theme and organisational objectives. We have assisted with launches, open-days, annual meetings, road-shows, themed events conferences and festivals.

To give you some inspiration, here’s how some organisations have integrated Universal Comedy into their event:

- Voluntary Health Scotland Conference
Interactive comedy performances
- North Lanarkshire Mental Health Festival, Motherwell Civic Theatre
Interactive sketches and stand-up comedy performances in support of Choose Life

- NHS GGHB Public Health Dept. Royal Concert Hall Glasgow sketches and stand up devised around health issues of new Annual Report
- Scottish Government Employability Network Conference Comedy sketches devised and performed around clients’ employability journeys
